....Pick a tranquil spot in the shade and you'll have it made with some homemade bread and cheese
.....and a glass of this Ruchè!

Named for the parish priest who rediscovered and relaunched this epoch wine variety, known and consumed only by the local people on holidays, it has a beautiful ruby red color, with aromas that are both fruity and floral and a long lasting taste hinting of ripe apricots, withered roses and apples preserved in syrup and honey. Ruchè is an excellent wine to serve with all manner of autumn-winter dishes and well seasoned cheeses.
